Westy Talks Need For More Troops

Rocky Shaping As No. 1 Threat To Dick Nixon

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon says New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's willingness to accept a genuine Republican presidential draft has no relevance—for now—beyond the New Hampshire primary.

Speculation that Rockefeller could become Nixon's chief rival for the GOP presidential nomination was heightened by the governor's statement in Detroit over the weekend that he'd accept a draft.

But Nixon told newsmen in Whitefield, N. H., Sunday the only current relevance of Rockefeller's statement is the impact it might have on write-in votes for the governor in New Hampshire.

Expects No Draft

Rockefeller continues to say he is not a presidential candidate—and expects no draft—but supporters are waging a write-in drive for the governor in New Hampshire anyway.

Nixon also told newsmen he's "not particularly encouraged" by the latest Gallup Poll showing him running even in popularity with President Johnson.

"The polls are not going to determine the Republican presidential nominee," he said.

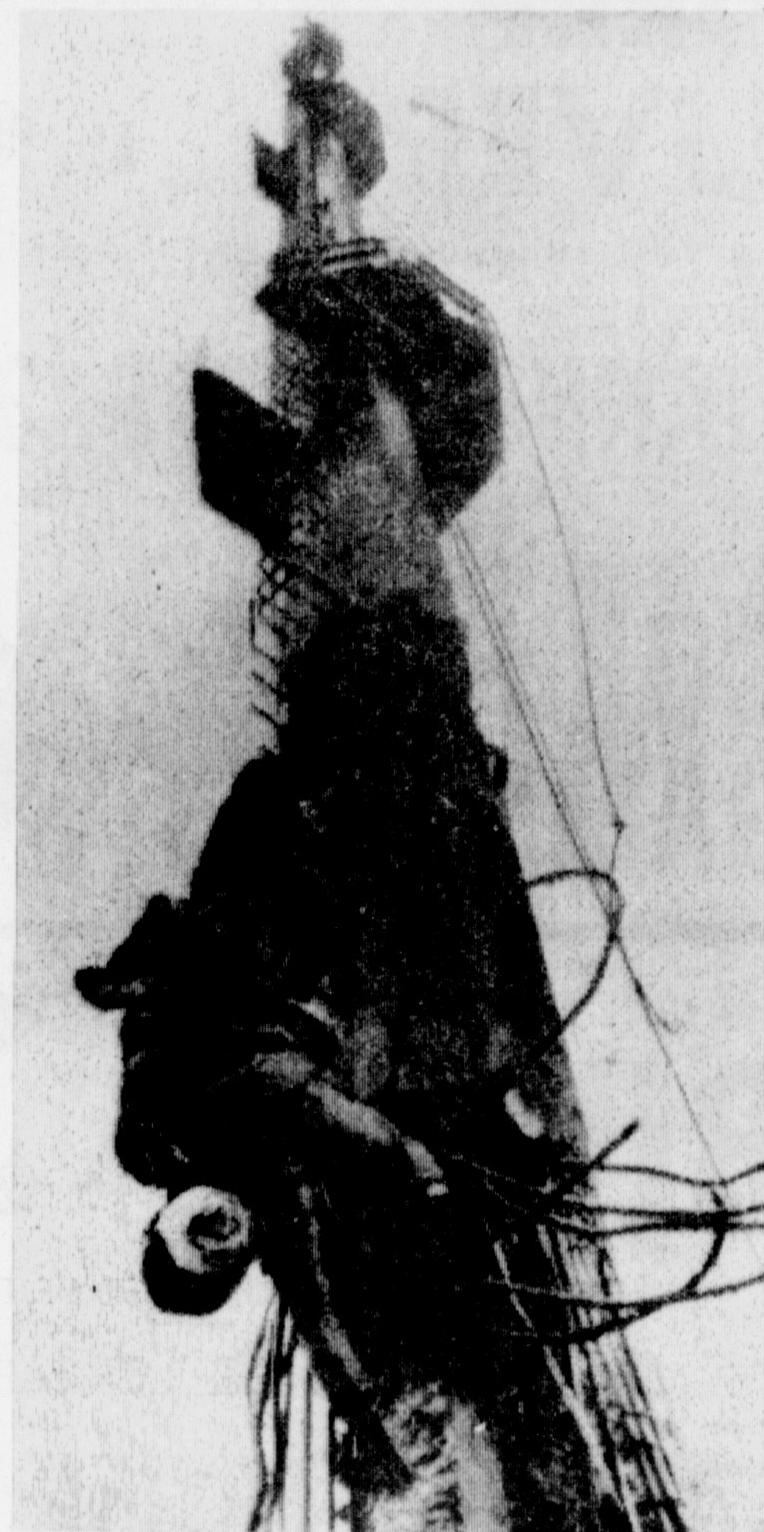

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., a Democratic presidential hopeful leveled a new attack at the Johnson administration meanwhile. And Fortune magazine said a presidential bid by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., would get almost solid opposition from business.

Years Of Decay

McCarthy said in Manchester, N.H., the Johnson administration has taken "almost no significant action to remedy the basic conditions with lead to riots" in the cities.

McCarthy said Johnson's five years in office have "brought decay to replace progress, near despair to replace hope, and failure in war to replace success in the pursuit of peace."

AFL-CIO Presses $2 Minimum Pay

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals today refused to interfere with Florida court injunctions restraining organizers of Florida's statewide teachers strike.

The appeals court specifically refused to overrule an injunction issued by Dade County Circuit Judge Ray Nathan in Miami forbidding classroom teachers to encourage or coerce teachers to stay out of their classrooms and forbidding picketing and encouraging children to stay away from school.

Tobias Simon, attorney for the CTA, argued a Florida anti-strike statute "is being utilized to defeat the civil rights of teachers."

The action came as some 24,000 of the state's 55,000 public school teachers began the second week of their walkout. Substitutes were being pressed into service in nearly all of the state's 67 counties.

In Gainesville, more than 200 members of the American Association of University Professors at the University of Florida began a daylong "workday" in sympathy with the teachers.

DETROIT (AP) — The last formed by Pete Seeger on "The

CBS Sunday night was cut locally

by WJBK-TV because, the station said, it "calls the Presidency, by inference, a big fool."

Program Director Bob Ryer-

when the show was screened by the station. He said Seeger

Fulbright For Congress Talks On More War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright urges a full-scale congressional debate on any further U.S. escalation in Vietnam, saying dispatch of more American troops to the war would be "a disastrous course."

The Arkansas Democrat Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a long-time arch critic of U.S. policy in Vietnam, said Sunday he feels the country deserves a "re-examination of the purposes, the objectives" of that policy.

The president of South Vietnam and a top U.S. diplomat spurned meanwhile U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's call Saturday for an end to American bombing of North Vietnam.

Predicts Weakening

In saying the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong would take military advantage of any bombing halt, President Nguyen Van Thieu predicted the enemy would grow weaker and weaker this year, and added:

"I believe this is the last year for the VC," the Communist guerrillas in South Vietnam.

Undersecretary of State William P. Bundy said North Vietnam must indicate clearly in advance that it would not take military advantage of a bombing halt.

"We just can't take this one on faith—pure and simple," said Bundy.

Fulbright was interviewed on the ABC radio-television program, "Issues and Answers;" Thieu on CBS's "Face the Nation," and Bundy on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Incident Unclear

Fulbright once more said the administration hasn't proved two U.S. destroyers were attacked in the August 1964 Gulf of Tonkin incident — the reported naval engagement that led to the first U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

And even if the ships were attacked, said the Arkansas, the U.S. military retaliation was far too harsh.

"Can you imagine how they (the North Vietnamese) look at it, having done nothing to us and then suddenly to have 64 missions with enormous tonnage dropped on you?" he asked.

Fulbright referred to 64 U.S. bombing sorties against North Vietnam launched shortly after the destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy reported being attacked by North Vietnamese torpedo boats.

Changers Mind

Three days after the incident Fulbright—acting as floor manager—steered through the Senate the so-called Tonkin Gulf resolution authorizing the President to use "all necessary measures" to repel further aggression.

Fulbright said Sunday if he had known then what he does now he would not have supported the resolution, which won overwhelming Senate adoption.

Gift Aid For U-M Rejected

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan President Robben W. Fleming today rejected a suggestion that some funds received from outside sources could be used to reduce university dependence on state appropriations.

The proposal was contained in a state auditor general's report on university accounts, made available to the Senate Appropriations Committee, currently studying U-M budget requests.

Fleming said there is the implication in the report that there are substantial funds available in university accounts which could be used to reduce the amount of state appropriations.

"This is true only if the people of Michigan are prepared to see the quality of the university substantially reduced," Fleming said.

Fleming said there is a suggestion that unrestricted gifts could be used to reduce the state funds.

"It would extinguish unrestricted gifts," Fleming replied, "because there would be absolutely no incentive to a donor to provide money in lieu of state support."

Five Times Wind Velocity

Ice yachtsmen go where the ice is and in the weekend they were on Green Bay ice off Fox Park at the mouth of Deer Creek.

The park is 5 miles north of Cedar River and about 20 miles south of Escanaba.

The Menominee & Marinette Ice Yacht Club set up "camp" on the ice for weekend regattas there on Saturday and raced both Saturday and Sunday with 8 to 10 Renegade class yachts on the ice and one "E" class boat.

Racing the craft were their owners, Roger Derusha, Robert Bjorkland, Milton Nelson (skippering his "E" boat) and his son, Edgar Nelson, in a Renegade; Robert Bannow, Arlyn LaFortune, Gary Wicks, Gary Snell and John Sargent.

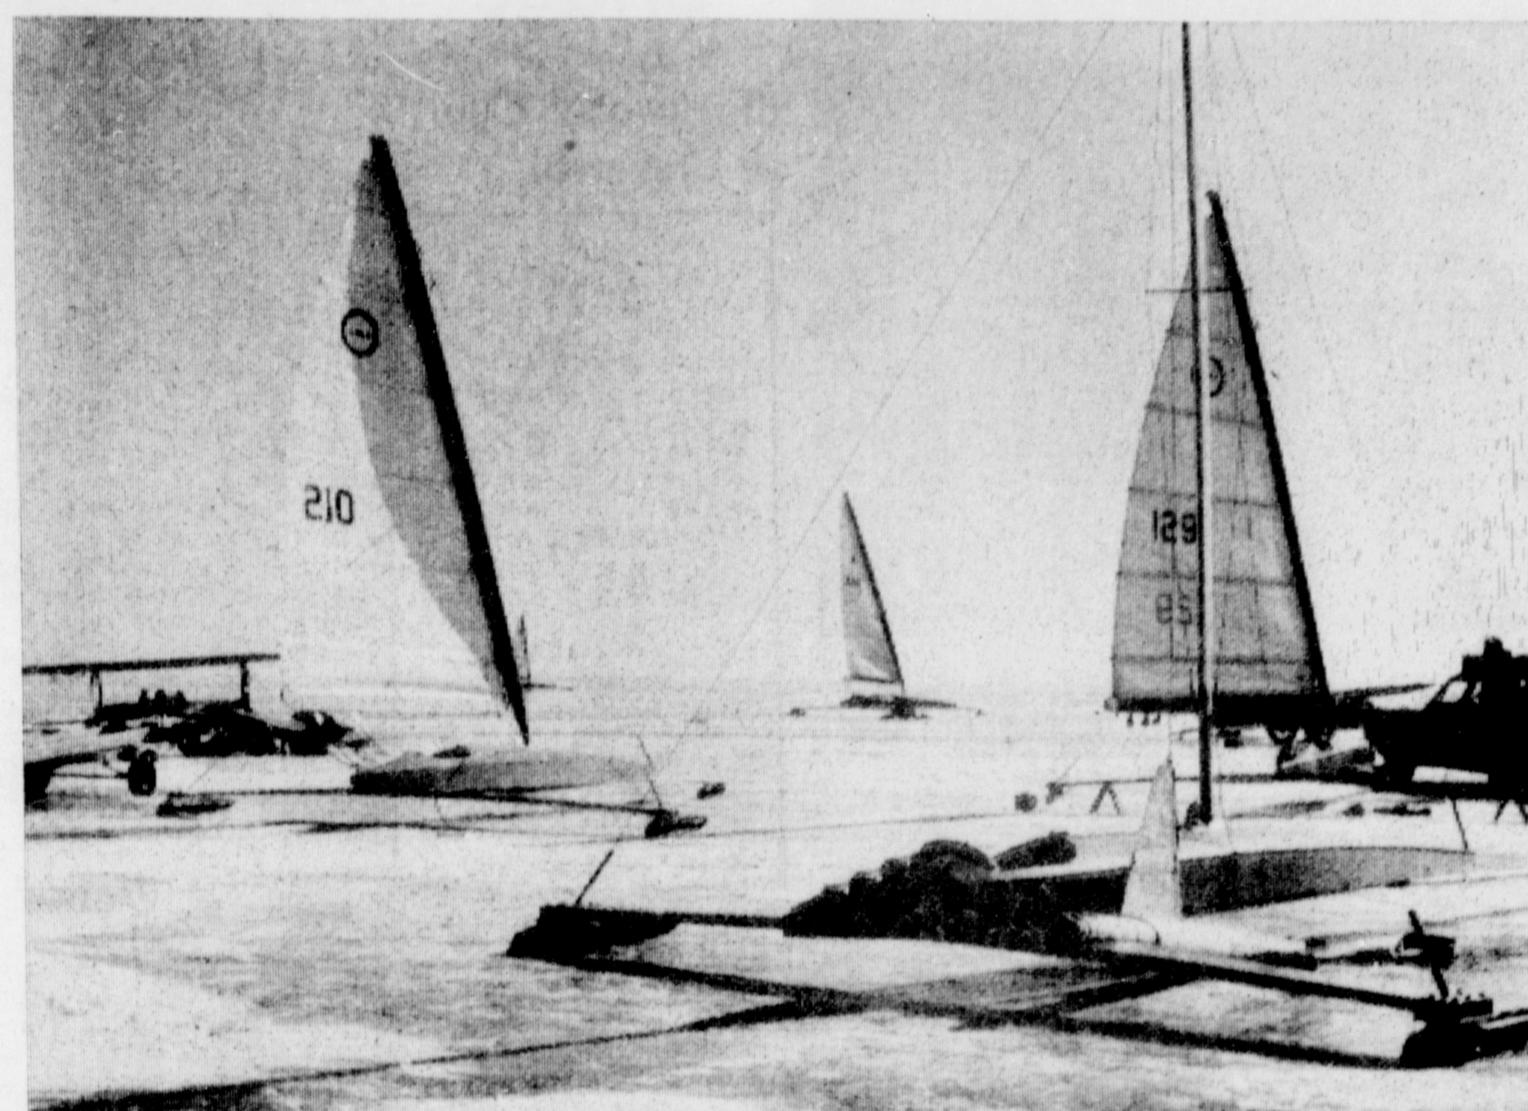

The little renegades, with only 67 square feet of sail area are almost as fast as the "E" boats, carrying 75 square feet of sail. An "E" recently beat the ice yacht speed record held by John Buckstaff's Debuteante, a Class "A" boat which had 750 square feet of sail.

Elmer Millenbach of Detroit designed the Renegade prototype in 1947 and the class has become very popular with ice yachtsmen. They are not as expensive to build as the big boats and they are very fast. There are now 21 Renegades in the Menominee-Marinette ice yacht fleet and their helmed skippers start their racing season early with them, usually on the ice of Lake Nockebay in Marinette County, an inland water that freezes early.

Then the fleet moves to the Menekauine ice (East Marinette) a protected area on the shore of Green Bay. They participate in regattas at Menominee, at Madison and Lake Geneva in Wisconsin and elsewhere.

The boats are so light that a man can take them off a car trailer and set them up alone, so their great mobility makes them easily adaptable to travel.

Milton Nelson said, "We used to think an iceboat was pretty good if it could sail twice as fast as the wind, but these boats can sail five times as fast as the wind. Look (he said), pointing to a Renegade skimming over Green Bay ice) at that boat. The wind can't be more than 8 miles an hour and he's going about 40 miles an hour."

Election Aftermath

The Escanaba Area Board of Education is going to be much changed when terms of the present members expire. Several of them have told friends that they will not seek re-election.

Their decision is not inspired by pique over the defeat, for the second time, of their proposal to the school district of taxes necessary to keep the present school program operating. It is more truly a dismay about being effective in the roles to which the public has elected them. That, and perhaps a thought that by not seeking re-election they can indicate to the public the serious deficiencies they see in present arrangements for the financing of our public schools.

Some of the public reaction to such board member action may be to quip like Harry Truman that "If you can't stand the heat, stay out of the kitchen." But that would be sick humor in this situation, because the public is persisting in a course of action which not only enlarges the school financing problem, but which also threatens the quality of education in the local public schools.

It seems clear that the repeated defeat of the millage must be ascribed to a number of reasons working together, not one reason. These reasons include:

1. General public dissatisfaction with increasing taxes and costs of living.

2. The rare opportunity to participate in a protest tax increase by voting one down.

3. Hostility toward teachers' demands for higher pay. (The size of the vote indicated that pro-union forces were influential in the defeat.)

4. Conservatism (of the elderly and others) about educational expenditures.

5. Belief that the schools can somehow, in some unexplained way, make themselves less expensive without making themselves less effective. This may be the most hurtful thought of all.

6. Downright financial hurt suffered by some people and their reaction to any "unnecessary" spending, even when they know that it is highly important to the process of informed citizenship.

7. Misinformation in newspaper advertising and union journals comment.

8. Never dying protest against the high school as a symbol of big spending.

The need for education must be accepted by the public if schools are to be adequately financed under Michigan's present muddled system of paying for public schooling.

It is not so accepted at present in sufficient degree.

Some millage proposal must eventually prevail because it is unthinkable that our schools should be closed or even seriously shortened up in a period when the need for their services is huge and expanding.

It is a sad comment that the areas in which good schooling has its greatest effect and maximum benefit were the areas in which it was rejected most overwhelmingly. Somehow that must be corrected. Their children must be given equal opportunities for education. No other family investment in them could be more meaningful to their happiness and usefulness.

We must work at two tasks:

1. To get our Escanaba Area schools adequately financed, and that means a "Yes" vote on operating millage. (It's foolish to have the federal government spend huge sums to rescue young people who could have been helped earlier, and more effectively and at much less cost, by good schools.)

2. To effect long-range changes in Michigan's methods of financing public schooling so that the public does not vent upon the schools all its anger and frustration at government spending.

School Financing

A leading "urbanologist" and lawyer has called for the U. S. Supreme Court to declare the whole local school taxation system invalid because of educational inequities it helps maintain between well-to-do suburbs and poorer cities.

The court should then order the states to come back with another system that meets "the requirements that the state itself has assumed of providing an adequate educational opportunity" for all, says Julian H. Levi, professor of urban studies at the University of Chicago.

Presumably the court could do so on the ground that disparities between the highest and lowest per-student expenditure under the present system that prevails in the states is a violation of the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment.

"Districts where youngsters are most in need of educational assistance because the resources available to them are the least also are the places where the dollar expenditure is the least," argues Levi.

That this "double deprivation" of segments of the nation's school children could come under or within the purview of the Supreme Court is more than a mere matter of legal theorizing. It is, in fact, at the heart of a suit filed in Michigan, the first of its kind in the country.

The Detroit Board of Education, facing a $9 million deficit, is suing the state for more money for its ghetto students.

The Michigan constitution requires the legislature to support free public schools. This, contends the board, makes education a state responsibility. It also cites a U. S. Supreme Court interpretation of the 14th Amendment which says that a public education program must be made available to all students on adequate and equal terms.

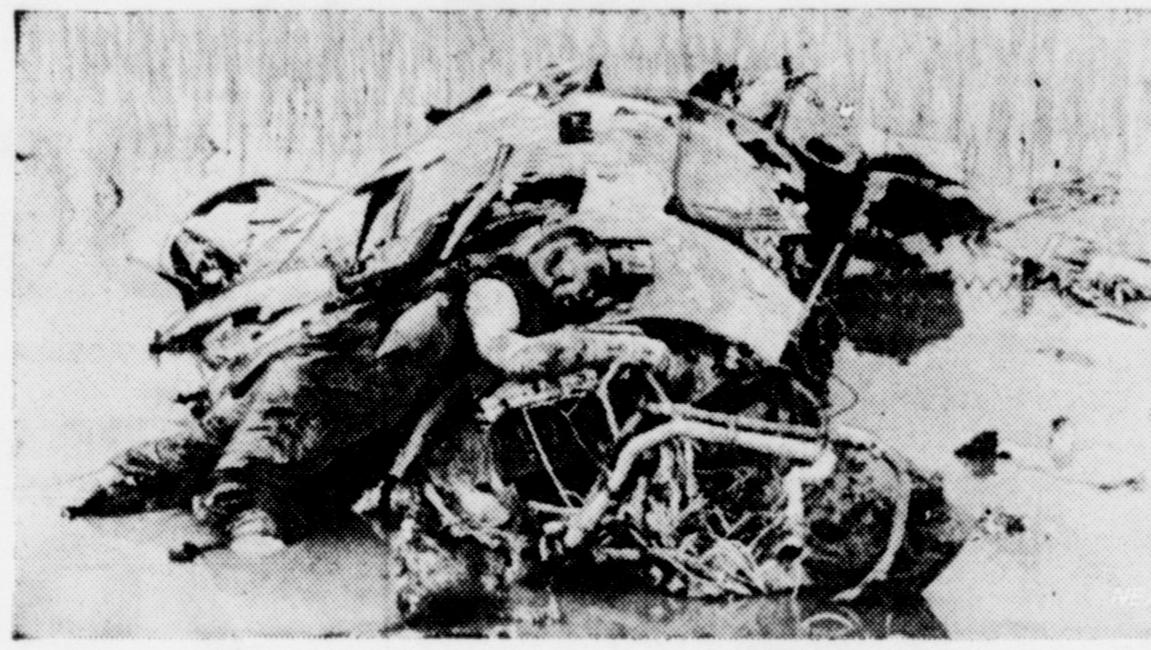

But, says the board, children in ghettos and in poor towns suffer because of a lower tax base in their communities. The quality of their education is largely governed by "parental status and geography."

Like the long-ignored inequities in voter representation which led to the historic reapportionment decision that shook up 50 statehouses, we may be witnessing the stirrings of another issue in which the Supreme Court may have to intervene because the states did not do what they ought to have done.

Michigan has been moving toward change in school financing. It is hastened by defeats of local school taxes like the recent one in Escanaba. The proposals for reform take several forms. One would have the state take over education, another the federal government. Either would mean more taxation than local solution of the problem of school financing.

THERE IS LITTLE HOPE that bombing can check the flow of North Vietnamese supplies to the south, says outgoing Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, "as long as combat requirements remain at anything like the current low levels." Photo from an official Communist source shows members of a "people's transport unit" using bicycles to carry ammunition and supplies down the Ho Chi Minh trail.

THE PRICE OF BOMBING has been high for the United States. Tass, official Soviet news agency which released this photo, says it shows a dead American pilot lying on the wreckage of his plane somewhere in North Vietnam.

Vietnam Bombing Is Not Paying Off

By DICK KLEINER

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — The Pentagon has had ready for a great amount of its possession, for slightly destruction. It never materialized more than a year, a report is, at least not to the degree stating that continued bombing that had been anticipated.

Even if they had been bombed as heavily as they professed to expect, Hoefding says, the effects would not be too much to South. He doesn't care about points. What he wants to know is how many acres North has.

As to the matter of civilian casualties from the bombings, Hoefding says, in effect, that Hanoi could not have asked for a better situation than that which developed. The U. S. bombers exercised restraint in the early days of the war, and the casualty level is below World War II and Korean war levels—and yet there have been enough civilian casualties to keep the population's anti-American feeling high.

"In terms of its moral effects," he says, "the U. S. campaign may have presented the (Hanoi) regime with a near ideal mix of intended restraint and accidental gore."

He believes that North Vietnam can withstand a long war, and that its allies—China and Russia—can continue to supply it with military and economic aid, no matter how severe the bombings might get.

"Hanoi's calculation," he says, "is that the United States will be unable completely to deny access to aid delivered by sea."

In summation, Hoefding writes:

"The bombing specifically has produced enough incidental damage and civilian casualties to assist the North Vietnamese (government) in maintaining anti-American militancy, and not enough to be seriously depressing or disheartening."

In his conclusion, Hoefding writes:

"It becomes increasingly doubtful that the advantages of continuation or intensification of the (bombing) attacks outweigh the potential net gains from cessation or, at least, drastic and demonstrative de-escalation."

(Hoefding's position today, more than a year later, remains unchanged. He states now: "My feeling is that my report has stood up fairly well. Escalation of the bombing has occurred and the effects—or lack of effects—have been what I predicted.")

Hoefding directed his report toward answering two basic questions: Has the bombing of North Vietnam had any appreciable effect on the physical and organizational functioning of North Vietnam as an economy and political entity? And has the bombing had any effect in inducing Hanoi to agree to negotiations, on initial terms acceptable to the United States?

Hoefding says throughout his report that the level of U. S. bombing has not been as great as Hanoi expected—or as it expected. Thus, the North Vietnamese have been—and are—prepared for more severe attacks than they have yet undergone.

JIM: "We get a lot of mail complaining that there are too many bidding conventions."

Oswald: "For people who want to play bridge for nothing but relaxation, I do feel that too many conventions are out of place. The average player should not attempt to make every bridge game a memory exercise. On the other hand, if you play in a national championship, you should be expected to extend yourself. A golf champion uses 14 clubs—the ordinary player should get along with half as many."

JIM: "One artificial convention is almost universal. That is the Blackwood four and five no-trump. Let's talk about it this week."

Oswald: "Today's hand shows Blackwood in its simplest form. North's three no-trump response shows a balanced hand with 15-17 high card points but those points don't mean too much to South. He doesn't care about points. What he wants to know is how many acres North has."

JIM: "The Blackwood convention lets him find out. His four no-trump bid says, 'Partner! If you have no aces or four aces, then bid five clubs; if you have one ace, bid five diamonds; with two aces, bid five hearts; with three aces, bid five spades, and leave the rest to me.'

Oswald: "North responds dutifully and shows two aces, whereupon South contracts for the cinch six spades."

JIM: "We gave the example with malice aforethought. Those who play that any four no-trump bid is Blackwood have no trouble with this hand. Some experts would have real trouble. They play that under certain circumstances, a bid of four no-trump is just a strong no-trump bid and not a demand for aces."

As to any escalation of the bombing:

"It appears likely that further escalation of the air war would involve the United States in increasingly serious conflict between the quest for greater effectiveness . . . and the credibility of the U. S. stance of asserted restraint in targets and objectives."

It all adds up, in Hoefding's view, to the doubtful value of the bombing. It remains to be seen when—or if—the Pentagon will act on this advice.

I used to buy treated dust cloths, but hit on the idea of using a piece of an old wool blanket sprayed on both sides with a dusting aid.

It put such a beautiful shine on my furniture!

Dear Heloise:

Never throw away old, worn-out wool blankets. I found the most wonderful way to use them and save money too.

Many mothers use cornstarch on babies so why can't we use it too?

"DECORATING FROM THE BOTTOM UP". Carpeting is one of the most important parts of your decorating scheme. For a small room carpeting, wall to wall, can give the impression of space. When matched to wall color, an even greater illusion of space can be achieved. If your problem is a big living area, make a conversation corner with an area rug. Area rugs can define and set aside one living area from another in the same room. Just be sure the rug is large enough so that at least part of the furniture sits on the rug, so your group looks cozy and inviting rather than skimpy.

At Christensen's our salesmen can help you select the carpeting that will give your room an entire new look. With today's choice of deep dyed colors, and the big choice of miracle fibers and blends, you no longer have to choose an ordinary dull color "so it won't show the dirt." This is the age when you can make exciting things happen with brilliant new colors in your living room.

Come in and see our new carpeting; there are styles to blend or contrast with your present furniture, whether it's early American, contemporary, or your own inventive blend of mix and match. Our salesmen suggest that you pick several samples so you can compare them with your furnishings. This is one of many decorator services at Christensen's that are always available to you without obligation. Call on us soon at Christensen's.

Gladstone, State Discuss Highway

GLADSTONE — City Manager H. J. Henrikson said today that the City of Gladstone and the Michigan Highway Commission have reached "pretty close understanding" on the proposed four-lane highway on the north end of Gladstone also was discussed.

The Gladstone Commission has never approved Highway Dept. plans for the four-lane highway. One of the main stumbling blocks has been the design of entrances and exits to the city near the Industrial Park.

The four-lane highway improvement from Gladstone to Rapid River originally was scheduled for construction in 1967. The project has been pushed back to 1972 because of lack of federal funds, the Highway Commission has said.

Henrikson reported that although the City of Gladstone and the Highway Commission have reached substantial agreement on the project that the Highway Commission "was not optimistic" on advancement of the project ahead of 1972.

"They offered no encouragement in getting the work done before 1972," Henrikson said.

Ford flew to President Johnson's Texas ranch Saturday to confer with him on his new post. He will head a group of top businessmen from all over the nation assembled into the National Alliance of Businessmen whose objective is to turn hard-core unemployed into productive workers — 100,000 by July and 500,000 by the summer of 1971.

In addition, NAB has been asked to try to find meaningful jobs for 200,000 disadvantaged young people by the coming summer.

Chief executive officer for the campaign is Leo Beebe, a Ford Motor Co. vice president on loan. William M. Day, Jr., Detroit president of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., is head of the Detroit-area drive.

Free Grounded Ship In Canal

BULLETIN
PANAMA (AP) — A Japanese ore ship that grounded midway through the Panama Canal was moved out of Gaillard Cut today, clearing the 50-mile waterway for traffic.

PANAMA (AP) — The grounding of a 746-foot Japanese ship loaded with 51,806 tons of iron ore midway through the Panama Canal blocked traffic both ways Sunday and may keep the 50-mile waterway closed for several days.

More than 60 ships were held up in the canal and at both ends. The Shozan Maru lay in 47 feet of water where she settled after scraping a rocky channel bank that gave her a 75-foot gash in her hull. Her deck was 42 feet above water.

Three tugs and a floating crane sought to raise the bow by pumping air into the flooded parts of the vessel. Authorities hoped this would enable tugs to move the disabled vessel out of the 300-foot-wide Gaillard Cut, the narrowest point in the channel.

If the effort fails, enough iron ore will have to be removed from the hold of the ship to permit it to be towed to a mooring out of the line of traffic.

The freighter, bound from Peru to France, struck the bank a mile from the northern end of the nine-mile cut.

Charges against Thomas Novak, 17, of Ensign, and Mark A. Hansen, 17, of Ensign were dismissed. Hansley had no comment on the action.

The five youths and a juvenile from the Rapid River area were arrested in the same automobile in Masonville Township, police reported. The juvenile was cited to Probate Court.

Must Register, Voters Advised

Escanaba voters who have been notified by City Clerk Don Guindon that their voting registration has lapsed because they have not voted within the past two years are reminded to return the notices they received or to call the office of the city clerk.

"If they want to vote in elections this year they must have their registration reinstated, and we will do this if they will telephone us," Guindon reported.

Three hundred cards were mailed to persons previously registered as voters whose registration had lapsed. Of this total only 117 have requested reinstatement.

Some who failed to reply to the notice sought to vote in the recent school millage election. There are a number of elections scheduled this year and unless electors have their registration reinstated they may not vote.

The city clerk also reminded that the deadline for registration for the April 1 city election is Friday, March 1. The clerk's office in the City Hall will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

U.S. Favored In Moon Race Now

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — American astronauts now are favored to beat the Russians to the moon, with a good possibility they'll plant the Stars & Stripes there next year.

Faced with this potential space defeat, the Soviets may try to reduce the sting by flying men around the moon late this risk mission aimed at winning year and making an all-out effort to establish the first large manned space station and to land the first men on another planet.

They also may attempt within a year or so to land a large unmanned robot on the moon and return it to earth with the first samples of lunar soil, thus beating U.S. astronauts to this prize.

These conclusions are based on a survey of recent Soviet publications and discussions with U.S. officials who assess the Russian space program.

Strong Recovery

These sources believe both nations will bounce back strongly from last year's man-in-space tragedies and that 1968 and 1969 will produce a series of spectacular launches.

The feeling is that the United States is recovering more quickly from the Apollo 1 fire than Russia is from the re-entry crash of Soyuz 1 that killed Cosmonaut Vladimir Komarov. Three astronauts died in the Apollo blaze at Cape Kennedy.

Secret Is Edge

Dr. Charles S. Sheldon 2nd, acting chief of the Library of Congress Science Policy Research Division and a leading American specialist on Russian space matters, said:

"With every month of delay in the Soviet program, this enhances U.S. chances of landing on the moon first. If the Apollo program runs into no more major problems, the edge must go to this country."

He cautioned, however, that Soviet secrecy "gives them lots of opportunities to catch us off balance and makes it difficult to predict their next move."

Even the Russians seem to be playing down the moon race lately.

Lead Admitted

Prof. Leonid Sedov, a top Soviet space scientist, said an "American landing is technically possible by 1969 or 1970" but that his country still had difficult problems to solve. Among them, he said, are slowing a mooncraft safely for the fiery return through the earth's atmosphere — technology already mastered by the United States. Other Russian documents indicate control problems that plagued Soyuz 1 have not been corrected completely.

American officials said the Russians soon will have the capability of sending a Soyuz-type spacecraft on a circumlunar flight that would take it once around the backside of the moon and return it to earth.

Sheldon said an attempt was made to send an unmanned craft on such a journey last fall, but that it failed.

Another unmanned circumlunar attempt is expected when the spring thaws come, in March or April. Russia has never launched a manned flight in the winter months because of severe weather conditions in much of the country. For this reason, cosmonauts have been practicing for water landings in warmer climates.

Sheldon said a successful unmanned circumlunar flight could be followed in six months by a manned trip around the moon.

In the spring, the Russians may also try a repeat of the Soyuz 1 mission, which reportedly will involve a linkup between two craft carrying a total of four or five cosmonauts. Women and pilots from other Communist-bloc countries might be crew members.

The Colorado River is sometimes called the "Nile of America."

Rocky Available For GOP Draft

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney declined to comment Sunday on Nelson A. Rockefeller's statement that the New York governor would run for president if drafted by the Republican national convention.

Romney turned aside questions on Rockefeller's remarks as he returned to Michigan after campaigning for Republican presidential nomination in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Oregon during the past two weeks.

Earlier, Romney said only: "I appreciate his continued support. After all, he was in Detroit to raise funds for me."

Rockefeller said flatly at a news conference Saturday in Detroit that he would run if drafted.

Director

LANSING (AP) — Paul Marek Holt, assistant director of the Planning and Transportation Division, has been named director of the State Highway Department Maintenance Division. He succeeds John Woodford, recently named deputy state highway director.

The Children of Ler were said to be three sons and a daughter of the Irish Sea god Ler, who were turned into swans.

Answer Help To Complete State Income Tax Return

By CLARENCE LOCK
State Revenue Commissioner
Written for
The Associated Press

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's personal income tax, approved by the State Legislature last summer, went into effect Oct. 1, 1967. Most employers in the state began withholding it from their workers' paychecks on that date.

Since the new tax was enacted, taxpayers have asked the State Revenue Department various questions about it. Some of the questions most frequently asked are answered below.

Q: What is the amount of each exemption?

A: Except for the returns taxpayers will file this year, Michigan's income tax law allows an exemption of $1,200 for each taxpayer and each of his dependents. An extra $1,200 will be allowed in the case of a person 65 or over or blind.

But since the tax did not take effect until October, 1967, the period covered in this year's return will be only one quarter of a year (October, November and December). Therefore, the per-dependent exemption will be only one quarter its normal size, or $300.

Q: May I use the short state income tax form, MI-1040a, to report my income?

A: No. Only those persons whose income consists entirely of wages, interest and dividends are to use the short form. Others should file their returns on the forms marked MI-1040.

Rate Is 2.6 Per Cent

Q: I am self-employed. Must I file an estimated return?

A: Only those persons who estimate their tax to be in excess of $100 on income not subject to withholding have to file estimated returns.

Q: What is the tax rate?

A: The rate is 2.6 per cent, or $2.60 tax on each $100 of taxable income. After you calculate your taxable income, multiply that by 0.026 to find out how much tax you owe. Do not multiply by 2.6.

WE ALSO DO PRINTING

Q: Are Social Security benefits taxable?

A: No.

Q: What about retirement pay from the armed forces?

A: That is subject to the tax, but the military pay of a person serving in the armed forces is exempt.

Q: If a husband and wife file a joint federal income tax return, must they also file a joint state return?

A: Yes. The same procedure must be followed in both cases.

Q: Must I pay tax on interest received from a bank located in another state?

A: Yes. Such interest is taxable to Michigan residents.

Q: Are dividends and pensions taxable if received from a corporation located in another state?

A: Yes. This also is taxable to a Michigan resident.

Q: I filed a federal return itemizing many deductions which the U.S. tax law exempts. May I make the same deductions in figuring my state tax return?

A: No. The state law does not provide for deduction of these expenses.

Q: Must I pay the state income tax on sick pay?

A: Yes, but only on that portion that is subject to the federal income tax.

Q: May I subtract the amount withheld from wages does not exceed $5, you need not file a return or pay the difference?

Q: What income is subject to the Michigan income tax?

A: All income included in federal "adjusted gross income," as figured on your federal tax form (line 9 of federal form 1040 or line 7 of federal 1040A) is subject to the Michigan tax.

Q: Must I pay the tax on workmen's compensation?

A: No. Since workmen's compensation is not subject to the federal tax, it is not subject to the Michigan tax.

Q: What about interest from U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Interest received from obligations of the federal government cannot be taxed by the state and may be subtracted, on the state forms, from your adjusted gross income.

Q: Can I deduct alimony?

A: Yes, if it is included in the wife's federal adjusted gross income and deductible on the husband's federal income tax return. Support payments may be similarly handled.

Q: Where do I obtain state tax forms?

A: If forms have not been mailed to you, they are available at state liquor stores or offices of the Treasury Department or Michigan Employment Security Commission.

By The Associated Press

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers are going to lose pitcher Mickey Lolich before spring training really gets rolling, but the 27-year-old left-hander thinks it may be a blessing in disguise.

Lolich, who won nine of his last 12 games in the pennant stretch drive last season and wound up with a 14-13 record, leaves Friday for two weeks duty with the Michigan Air National Guard in Savannah, Ga.

"This will be the first year since 1964 that I won't have to leave for two weeks in the summer," said Lolich, who is working on a regular-season string of 23-23 scoreless innings. "And that year I won 18 games. But I'm going to have to play this thing by ear and see what happens."

"I'll have most of this week and then only 18 more days to get into shape," he said. "And I really don't know if this is long enough. I don't think I'll be a nine-inning pitcher at first."

"You can bet that the first month of the season will be tough because I don't think I'll be fully ready to go."

Lolich pitched five minutes of batting practice in Detroit's three-hour workout at Marchant Stadium Sunday. Under a new system, all players on the Tigers' roster reported on the same day this year. In past years, pitchers and catchers have gotten a two-week jump on outfielders and infielders.

"I think it's better to have everyone come along at the same pace," said pitching coach Johnny Sain. "Under the old system, the pitchers would be way out in front of the hitters, and as a result, the hitters would be trying too hard to catch up."

"We would have more outfielders and infielders with sore arms than pitchers," he said.

Sain works every pitcher for five minutes on the sidelines, concentrating on various pitches and form. Then he turns them loose for five minutes pitching for batting practice.

"Batting practice is for the hitters," said Sain. "We just want the pitchers to get the ball over the plate. We have them throw breaking pitches as well as fast balls, but with all the players in camp at the same time, you don't have any pitcher trying to overpower all the hitters."

This way, everyone comes along slowly and at the same level of training," Sain said.

Veterans Norm Cash and Gates Brown cleared the right-field wall in batting practice Sunday. Cash, who spent some time working on his batting stroke against a pitching machine before the regular work-out, belted two long drivers over the wall.

The weather was sunny, with temperatures in the 70s, following overcast, 44-degree weather on the opening day of camp Saturday.

Willie Horton is still recuperating from surgery designed to correct a left Achilles tendon injury which kept him out of 40 games last year. He took a turn jogging around the field for the first time. He showed no sign of limping.

"Willie's coming along okay," said manager Mayo Smith.

Smith said he plans the first intrasquad game next week. The Tigers' first exhibition game is March 9 against the Oakland Athletics at Bradenton.

Eaton Expects Profit Increase

Eaton Yale & Towne Inc. anticipates "favorable increases in both sales and profits in 1968" following last year's pause, according to E. L. Ludvigsen, chairman of the board, and E. M. de Windt, president.

Capital investments in 1967 totaled $33.6 million compared with $43.4 million in 1966 and the company finished the year with a carryover of almost $21 million of previously approved appropriations. As a result, capital expenditures for 1968 should approximate the 1967 total, the two executives said.

The adverse impact of sizeable start-up costs, work stoppages due to strikes, and substantially higher costs for labor and materials were among the causes for a decline of 38 per cent in net income on a 6 per cent drop in sales for 1967 compared with 1966. The combined effect of these influences on net income was equal to approximately $1 a common share.

Consolidated net sales in 1967 amounted to $750.6 million, the second highest volume in the company's history. This compared with the record $795.6 million in 1966.

Net income for 1967 was $31.7 million in contrast to $31.3 million the year before. After provision for dividends on the convertible preferred shares, the results were equal to $2.11 and $3.46 a share, respectively, for 1967 and 1966.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"We have instituted measures designed to reverse the 1967 profit trend which already have benefited our operating figures for 1968," Ludvigsen and de Windt said.

Reporting on current operations, the two executives said "the bulk of the company's plant start-up costs are behind us, our international operations are improving, and there is an upturn in business for such products as truck and passenger car components."

Major plant and equipment expenditures last year were made in facilities for producing heavy-duty truck axles and transmissions, materials handling and construction equipment and passenger car parts.

Research and development expenditures reached a new high record of $13.3 million in 1967, or 15 per cent greater than the prior year's total.

Boilermakers, Hawkeyes Battle To Big Ten Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue and Iowa, having battled into a first place tie in the Big Ten basketball race, must travel different rounds in the drive to the championship.

Purdue smacked Ohio State 93-72 Saturday and Iowa turned in a 78-70 triumph at Indiana to take the inside track for the championship despite having to share the lead with the Boilermakers.

Each team has four games to play but Purdue has only one home game remaining and three on the road while the Hawkeyes play three at Iowa City and one on the road.

Despite its loss to Purdue,

Ohio State remains a factor in retaining an outside chance with a 6-4 record.

However, Illinois plays at Ohio State Monday night and the loser figures to be eliminated from the race.

Rick Mount, as usual topped Purdue in scoring as the Boilermakers avenged a 108-80 loss at Ohio State earlier in the season.

Mount poured in 34 points but it was Herman Gilliam who came through with pressure baskets to help the Boilermakers snap down Ohio State.

The Buckeyes took a 59-56 lead midway in the second half before Gilliam scored nine straight points to lift Purdue into a 65-61 lead. From then on Gilliam and Mount poured it onto the bewildered Buckeyes, who couldn't break Purdue's second half zone defense.

Gilliam finished with 26 points as he hit on 10 of 12 field shots and added six of seven free throws. Dave Sorenson led Ohio State with 18 points while high-scoring Bill Hosket was held to 15.

Iowa, usually led by Sam Williams who connected for 25 points, got some big help from sophomore Chad Calabria in its key victory over Indiana. Calabria led all scorers with 26 points and pumped in 9 of 12 points in the second half to pull the Hawkeyes out of danger.

Michigan State knocked Wisconsin out of the championship running with an 87-77 victory while Michigan upset Minnesota at Minneapolis 105-92 to climb into a ninth place with the Gophers.

The Illinois-Ohio State game is only one scheduled Monday but four games are on tap Tuesday with Indiana at Northwestern, Michigan State at Iowa, Minnesota at Wisconsin and Purdue at Michigan.

Reed, Russell Heroes; Knicks Defeat Pistons

By The Associated Press

WESTBY, Wis. (AP) — Tom Hillier of Ishpeming, Mich., placed second Sunday in the National Ski Jumping Championship, compiling 174.4 points on jumps of 266 and 278 feet.

Bill Norkoli, also of Ishpeming, was the only other Michigan contestant to finish among the top 10. He compiled 146.3 points on leaps of 248 and 237 feet.

The winner was Jay Martin of Minneapolis, who fell after soaring 302 feet Saturday, but returned to sail 287 feet Sunday, compiling 182.3 points in all.

Dr. Don Hurst, also of Ishpeming, finished third in the veterans class in the Snowflake Ski Club Ski Jumping Champion ship, also held over the weekend in Westby. Hurst compiled 105.5 points on jumps of 204 and 197 feet.

Bjorn Wirkola of Norway took first place in Class A, scoring 249.2 points on jumps of 321 and 338 feet. The latter jump set a new North American record, beating the old mark of 337 feet set by Adrian Watt of the U.S. Olympic team at Iron Mountain, Mich., this year.

Detroit is last, 5½ more games back of New York.

In other NBA action Sunday, Eastern leader Philadelphia outlasted St. Louis, first in the West, 126-119 and Los Angeles tured San Diego 127-112.

Indiana topped Kentucky 100-93, Minnesota beat New Jersey 92-83, Anaheim nipped Houston 114-109 and Oakland defeated Dallas 115-105 in the American Basketball Association.

Detroit was leading 61-56 early in the third quarter. Then, with Reed grabbing eight rebounds and Russell pouring in 15 points, the Knicks moved to an 89-82 lead. Detroit could not get closer than three points thereafter.

Reed added 20 points for New York. Jimmy Walker and Happy Hairston scored 23 each for the Pistons, whose coach, Dennis Butcher, was ejected for the fifth time this season.

Wilt Chamberlain and Hal Greer helped Philadelphia clinch its victory by combining for 24 last-period points. Greer finished with 32 points and Chamberlain 31. Joe Caldwell scored 24 and Paul Silas 23 for St. Louis.

Los Angeles went into its game without guard Jerry West, who has a groin injury, but Elgin Baylor didn't give San Diego any time to rejoice. The Laker veteran hit 16 of 23 field goal attempts, including eight in a row, for 41 points and pulled down 20 rebounds. Don Kojis scored 30 points for San Diego.

Saturday, New York downed Chicago 109-101, Boston edged Seattle 141-137, Baltimore defeated Detroit 140-132 and San Francisco drubbed Cincinnati 127-114.

Hope Wins Cage Crown With Overtime Victory

By The Associated Press

Hope College has won its 7-under-par 65, which gave him a 7-hole score of 15-under 273 and a one-stroke triumph over Frank Beard and Frank Boynton.

The 155-pound Knudson, who says a weight lifting program has given him added strength, proved his point when he wrecked the final nine holes of the 7,200-yard, par-72 Tucson National golf course.

Douglass joined second round co-leader Bill Ogden, the host pro, and the 54-hole pacemaker, Harold Henning of South Africa, a stroke farther back at 275. Each man got $4,366.

Al Geiberger was alone at 276, winning $3,400, while Tony Jackson and Jack Montgomery each pocketed $2,950 with their 278s.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer, who had been troubled by a bothersome case of flu during the first three rounds, shot a 5-under 34-33-67 Sunday to finish with a 72-hole total of 233, five strokes under par.

ketball season enters the home stretch.

And Houston, No. 1 in the nation and a stretch runner if there ever was one, warmed up for the CAA with a record 158-81 rout of Valparaiso Saturday. The unbeaten Cougars plan to make Hardin Simmons their 26th victim of the season to night.

UCLA, No. 2 and leading the Pacific-8, also is in action tonight, at home against Washington State. But the big one is in Lexington, Ky., where the Wildcats will try to nail down their 23rd Southeastern Conference title under Coach Adolph Rupp.

Kentucky, No. 3, with a 19-4 record, plays Auburn, 12-11, and a victory will wrap it up for the Wildcats. Kentucky clinched at least a tie for the title with a 96-83 decision over Alabama Saturday while Georgia upset ninth-ranked Vanderbilt 91-77 and Auburn edged Tennessee 53-52.

New Mexico and Weber State also clinched at least a tie in weekend action, while Louisville, behind the 22 points of Westley Unseld, beat Wichita State 98-88 for the Missouri Valley title, and Bowling Green took the Mid-American Conference title with an 84-63 triumph over Ohio University.

But the biggest noise was made by a team already assured of an NCAA berth—the Houston Cougars. Elvin Hayes tossed in 62 points in the rout of Valparaiso as the Cougars set two records. Their 158 points was the most in a major college game, as was their 74 field goals.

St. Bonaventure, ranked No. 4 and already in the NCAA, also remained unbeaten, whipping Niagara 97-84 in a Sunday game. Bob Lanier led the winners with 30 points while high-scoring Calvin Murphy of Niagara was limited to 24. Duquesne whipped Fairfield 90-67 in another Sunday affair.

New Mexico, No. 7, clinched at least a share of the Western Athletic Conference title by beating Arizona State 105-83 while Utah was suffering a 93-90 upset by Brigham Young. Weber State beat Idaho State 108-73 for at least a tie in the Big Sky.

The Atlantic Coast, Southern and Mid-Atlantic Conferences will determine their NCAA representatives by tournaments.

Third-ranked North Carolina tops the ACC with a 12-0 conference record after beating Virginia 92-74. No. 8 Duke is next, 9-3 in the league after a 11-9 record. Guard Gary Rypma scored three of Hope's four points in the overtime period. Floyd BRADY, who was among 40 persons nominated to the U.S. Olympic basketball team last week, was top scorer for Hope with 25 points.

Hillsdale's 19-5 record for the season is the best the school has ever done in basketball. The Dales' previous high mark was 18 wins last year. All of Hillsdale's scorers hit in double figures. Jeff Culp led with 23 points.

Job Changing State Dairying

EAST LANSING — Michigan dairymen and their cows are efficient milk producers, and they can effectively compete with Wisconsin dairymen, according to Michigan State University agricultural economist Dr. Ralph E. Hepp. Michigan has fewer dairymen than Wisconsin — 19,000 compared to 73,000 — but they earn higher net incomes per man.

One big advantage for Michigan dairymen, said Hepp, is their opportunity to make money in jobs other than dairying. A small operator can always supplement his income with a nonfarm job, or he can quit dairying entirely and work full time at the job.

The Wisconsin dairymen do not always have these same opportunities, because there aren't as many large cities with industries located within a reasonable distance of many of Wisconsin's dairy farms.

Because there aren't as many nonfarm job opportunities in Wisconsin, said Hepp, there is a tendency for small dairymen with marginal incomes to stay in business.

Hepp added that Michigan has and will continue to lose dairymen whose incomes are not on a par with nonfarm opportunities, but there will still be plenty of dairymen left to effectively compete and meet the demands of Michigan milk markets.

Gorillas are the giants of the great apes, some weigh 400 pounds.

THE HURON INDIAN war canoe of 300 years ago, measuring 35 feet long and five feet wide, was quickly adopted by early missionaries and fur traders exploring the Sault Ste. Marie country and beyond. These fragile craft in good hands could carry up to four tons of freight and a crew of six to eight paddlers. The Sault Tricentennial organization hopes to have four of these craft on display for visitors during the summer months. Above is an artist's conception of one of these canoes shooting the Sault Rapids some three centuries ago. The original of this picture is in the Burton Historical Collection in Detroit.

Bark Canoes Get Spotlight

SAULT STE. MARIE — One of the greatest assets in conquering the North American wilderness 300 years ago was the graceful birch tree, which provided bark to build the frail canoes that transported men and freight to the farthest reaches of the then unknown land.

Early Jesuit missionaries, the historians of the period, paid tribute to these fragile conveyances, which both they and the voyageurs used in journeys to the far interior.

In volume 42 of the Jesuit Relations is this sentence . . . "Two young Frenchmen, full of courage . . . began a journey of over 500 leagues (1,500 miles) . . . conveyed not in great galleons, or large oared barges, but in little gondolas of bark."

The men referred to, although not named, are accepted as the explorers Radisson and Grossilliers, who on that trip reached as far west as the Mississippi and on a later trip penetrated to the southern reaches of Hudson Bay.

These birchbark canoes of course varied in size from the 15-foot hunting or family canoe to the huge Huron war canoe, which the French quickly adopted to be the standard freight canoe of the fur trade. Although these craft too varied in size, the accepted standard, called the Montreal canoe, was 35 feet long, five wide and four feet deep. They could carry from three to four tons of freight besides a crew of six to eight men and their provisions.

It was with these craft that thousands of tons of trade goods were ferried into the interior and other thousands of tons of furs brought back to the St. Lawrence River for reshipment to Europe.

After the breakup of the ice in the spring, great flotillas of these freight canoes joined together for the journey to the St. Lawrence. Flotillas of 40 to 60 canoes were common. The largest recorded in early history was a flotilla of 360 canoes brought back from the Hudson Bay country in 1660 by Radisson and Grossilliers.

Henry Shackleton, chairman of the Adventure '68 Committee which is staging the Sault Tricentennial celebration marking the city's 300th birthday in 1968, said he hopes to have four of these freight canoes on display in the Sault during the Tricentennial.

LANSING (AP) — The next time you read that a public opinion poll shows 65 per cent of the people in favor of something, or opposed to it, you'd be wise to either read carefully or be a little bit skeptical.

That's the advice offered recently by a pair of polling experts who worry that their polls, or somebody else's, might be misinterpreted or used to defend conclusions they don't actually support.

Be especially wary, advises Dr. Walter DeVries, formerly Gov. George Romney's top pollster, about reports and rumors concerning private polls during political campaigns.

"Of the rumors on polls during a campaign," says DeVries, "about 80 per cent aren't true."

DeVries and Fred Currier, president of Market Opinion Research, which does the polling for the Michigan Republican party, offered some advice to Lansing newsmen recently on how to evaluate polls.

Important questions to ask, they said, include: how big a sample of the electorate was interviewed? How was the sample selected? Of the sample selected, how many replies were received? Is the analysis prepared by the pollster actually supported by the material gathered in the poll?

Detroit (AP) — With one exception, the nation's major automakers today enjoyed full employment—no strikes or layoffs—for the first time in weeks.

The exception was a Ford Motor Co. assembly plant in Dallas, Tex., where 1,500 members of the United Auto Workers Union have been striking since Feb. 13 over production standards and issues involving health and safety.

On Wrong Lot

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Contractor Howard Jensen bought a lot and started building a new house. This week, when he was three-fourths done, he discovered the lot he bought and the lot on which he was building the house were not the same. The city of Grand Junction, which owns the lot where the house is, has offered to sell it to him for $1,000.

The belladonna or deadly nightshade plant belongs to the potato family.
